

Leading Virtual Teams

COURSE OVERVIEW

Inspire and influence high performance in virtual teams

- Understand the challenges and opportunities when leading virtual teams
- Design and deliver effective virtual team meetings that motivate and engage
- Develop a variety of communication methods to facilitate successful team working

Why do we need to work in the same building? Many companies are currently asking that question.

The rapid pace of globalisation, availability of skills and the growing number of collaborative software solutions have enabled virtual work, and the current global pandemic has made it a necessity for many, but virtual team work is not intuitive.

Leading Virtual Teams will help you create practical management strategies to build trust, collaboration, engagement and high performance amongst virtual teams, helping you build quality collective thought from the comfort of your own home.
